INTELLIGENCE SERVICES

Are you looking for...

- ~ Competitive advantage
- ~ Product development support
- ~ Threat and risk analysis
- ~ Sample reports
- ~ Demonstrations
- ~ Trial logons

Knowledge you can rely on

At EWS, we can give you access to threat intelligence knowledge that can help to protect human lives and infrastructure, and give you the best competitive advantage possible.

Previously this level of threat-led intelligence was unavailable to agencies outside of government circles, leaving commercial businesses in the dark.

There are many reasons why it is becoming increasingly more difficult to get reliable, proactive and government-endorsed threat intelligence that you can count on when conducting business development strategies, making commercial decisions, or developing ECM equipment and the cross section of countermeasures, including the development of mission fill.

Ask us about:

- ~ Targeted threat information
- ~ RCIED Threat Profiles
- ~ Tailored intelligence data feeds
- ~ Open Source Threat Database
- ~ Threat-Led Business Development Reports

A lack of accurate and often time-sensitive information has an impact which can be measured in a number of ways. The key to a successful project, be it equipment development or sales activities, depends very much on the availability of the relevant information at the start, and throughout a focussed activity.

This is where EWS Intelligence Services can help you.
